WILSON, HARRIED BY EUROPE, CALLS IN HIS AMBASSADOR.

Democrats Would Modify the Monroe Doctrine to Escape Mexican Dilemma.

Representative in the United States Leaves for Home Today Simultaneously with the Departure for Washington of the Diplomat Who Has Weathered Three Revolutions in the Latin Republic—Wilson Called Blunderer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

A great deal of what is being printed in the newspapers regarding the diplomatic situation in Mexico is written to meet and support editorial opinion fully as much as to present facts. Probably the administration itself is very much undecided as to what it ultimately may have to do; meanwhile the contending business and political interests in Mexico are making the most of the opportunity to create sentiment through their interpretations of what is in the White House and State Department mind.

The view of those who profess to believe that the pressure from Europe will be irresistible is that the United States must take one of two horns of a dilemma—either recognize the de facto Huerta government in Mexico or prepare to intervene to put a stop to the chaotic conditions. The view of the supporters of the Constitutional party in Mexico, who are represented here by a strong junta, is as strong as it ever was that President Wilson will adhere to his original course of not recognizing the Huerta government unless it is ratified by an election in which all the people of the country participate. It is declared that Huerta is on his last legs; that our government realizes this fact, and that the "pressure" which is being brought to bear from European governments has been deftly engineered by foreign capitalists and politicians who have been backing the provision of Mexican President financially, and whose sole motive now is to develop a situation that will enable Huerta to negotiate a $10,000,000 loan so they may get something back and a good deal besides.

CHARGES AGAINST HUERTA.

It is charged that Huerta is trying to hang on until he can get a large loan of foreign gold, when he will abdicate and take the "easy" way out. It is charged that some European and possibly other financiers are aware of Huerta's alleged intentions, and that they expect him to divide with them when he gets safely across the water.

STAND-PAT POLICY.

The question of greatest importance is as to what will follow if the Washington government "stands pat" on its rather negative policy of non-recognition and non-intervention. This is a question which is of particular interest to Congressional experts in those who are not of the administration party and who see the administration in a serious predicament.

The future of the Monroe doctrine is declared to be at stake, and some very interesting speeches on the subject of the original strict construction of that policy are due as soon as the administration definitely makes known its stand. It is realized that it is a decidedly ticklish matter to suggest anything looking to a modification of the doctrine in question, matter involving serious political consequences on account of popular prejudice and inbred reverence for the principles embraced. It is declared that the time is at hand when a new declaration must be made regarding an attitude on politics in the Western Hemisphere, which was forced by conditions that have long since disappeared.

CHIEF PREDICAMENT.

The chief predicament of the administration, as viewed at the capital, lies in the declared fact that if it refuses either to recognize the Huerta government in Mexico or to intervene at the behest of European nations, it must proclaim a radical modification of the Monroe doctrine or else prepare for trouble with some of the foremost powers. It is pointed out that the basic principle on which the Monroe doctrine rests is the protection of foreign interests and the preservation of peace in Mexico and the Central and South American countries. It is declared that the United States cannot consistently under conditions that have changed radically in the last 100 years, adhere to the strict letter of the doctrine with respect to interference of European powers in Latin-American affairs unless it is willing to be active all the time in preserving the general peace of the two continents of the Western Hemisphere.

Some of our most conservative statesmen would prefer that England or Germany or whatever country may be concerned should be free to interfere in Latin-American affairs when the protection of their interests makes it seem advisable, than that the United States should be forced to pose as an international policeman with a big club held over the heads of lesser republics every day of the year. It is contended that the eternal surveillance of our neighbors by the United States is not doing us any good; that it is constantly causing ill feeling against this country because of its everlasting assertion of superiority and that in short, we would be far better off if European countries were as free as we are to deal with questions of the American continent than we would be in attempting to settle all the revolutionary affairs that break out for the world in general. Intervention, if persisted in, would be a bad precedent. It is contended, with some reason, that if we are to persist in the original construction of the latter.

This is one of the problems the Wilson administration is up against, and not so remotely as to give no cause for anxiety. As to the situation in Mexico, aside from other complications, the conference with Ambassador Wilson probably will develop something definite beyond what has so far been enunciated. There is the strong possibility that the administration is not at all pleased with the situation in Mexico, and has been charged by the Washington policy of refusing to recognize the Huerta government. He has been as strong for recognition as any of the other members of the diplomatic corps in the City of Mexico. It is probably a fact that if the Taft administration had continued in power that it would have recognized Huerta as President, but President Taft and his advisers wanted to take no action in the last days of their control that would embarrass the incoming officials.

AMBASSADOR'S FATE.

Much doubt is expressed as to whether Ambassador Wilson will return to Mexico after his visit to Washington. The administration may be averse to having an Ambassador not in sympathy with the Washington policy continue longer to act as its representative; if there is belated recognition of the Huerta government, of course it would make some difference. In that case, however, a new Ambassador could be sent to the Mexican capital; but to send someone to displace Mr. Wilson under other circumstances would be tantamount to recognition more formally proclaimed. This matter is embarrassing because it is believed to be most desirable in order to inspire confidence among the citizens of the United States who remain in Mexico that in these critical times their government should be represented by a full-fledged diplomatic officer of the highest rank instead of charge d'affaires, who can serve well enough ad

Widow of the Late Collis P. Huntington Marries His Nephew, the Los Angeles Railway Magnate—Though Event Had Been Foreshadowed and Was Not Unexpected in New York, It Surprises California Friends.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, July 16.—Mrs. Arabella D. Huntington, widow of the late Collis P. Huntington of New York, and Henry E. Huntington, the railroad man of New York and Los Angeles, were married today at the American Church in the Rue de Berri.

Collis P. Huntington, who died in August, 1900, left a fortune estimated at many millions, which he bequeathed to his wife, his adopted son, Archer M. Huntington, his nephew, Henry E. Huntington, and his adopted daughter, Clara Huntington, born in Detroit, Mich., now widow of Prince Francis of Hesse-Wildenburg.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At Mr. Huntington's office in this city no surprise was expressed at the news. Both Mr. and Mrs. Huntington have been thrown together a great deal since the death of Collis P. Huntington, whose last wish before his death was that his nephew should supervise the enormous estate that he left his wife. Mrs. Huntington was the second wife of Collis P. Huntington. They were married in New York and she was about thirty-two years his junior. Henry E. Huntington has also been married before.

Mr. Huntington is 63 and his wife 60. Mrs. Huntington does not show her years, owing to her active life. Mrs. Huntington, who lives in the gray stone Huntington mansion at Fifty-seventh street and Fifth avenue, left for Europe in May. Mr. Huntington left last month. Before he left, friends gathered from his remarks that he expected to be married there. He had never been abroad before. Repeatedly he had planned to go and had even engaged steamer reservations, which had been canceled at the last moment when business interfered. This time he

LAST WORD TO JAPAN.

"Do It Yourself!" Bryan Says.

Reply in the Anti-Alien Episode Reverses Precedent Set in School Case.

Tokio Is Told to Test the Law by a Suit to Determine Its Constitutionality.

Colorado Mob Threatens to Hang Nipponese Laborers and Sheriff Acts.

[BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The American reply to the last two Japanese notes on the California anti-alien law was delivered today by Secretary Bryan to Ambassador Chinda, who at once called it in Tokio. As in the case of the preceding notes, the contents were withheld from publication.

There is some expectation in official circles that the delivery of this last note will conclude the negotiations on this subject between the two countries for the present, at least; if not altogether. It is declared that the American reply to the various points of objection to the California legislation has been made so complete as to remove most of them from the field of discussion. Even in cases where the Japanese contentions have not been completely negated, completely, the diplomats are said to have framed their responses as to reduce the points to clear issues, which probably can be adjusted only on the basis of judicial decisions.

FIVE NOTES EXCHANGED.

The result has been reached through the exchange of five notes, the last of which was delivered today by Secretary Bryan to Ambassador Chinda. The first note was delivered by the Japanese to the American government on May 15, and the second by the American to the Japanese on May 19. The third note was delivered by the Japanese to the American government on June 4, and the fourth by the American to the Japanese on June 11. The fifth note was delivered by the Japanese to the American government on July 10, and the sixth by the American to the Japanese on July 13.

Unless the Japanese Foreign Office concludes that there is something in the American note delivered today requiring immediate attention and reply, probably there will be no further diplomatic exchange for at least another month. At the expiration of that time the Webb alien land owning act will become effective, and the way will be opened for a judicial test of its constitutionality.

The State Department is looking to the Japanese government to at least take the initiative in securing a judicial determination of the question as to whether this act is in conflict with existing treaties or whether it violates privileges to which the Japanese are entitled under the broad principles of international law. While the Japanese negotiators have expressed unqualifiedly the opinion that it was the duty of the American government to make this test following a precedent established during the Roosevelt administration in connection with the exclusion of Japanese pupils from the American public schools, the State Department has declined to accept this view.

Officials suggested today that the Japanese government would be in a better position to resume the consideration of its grievances by diplomatic means in the event of an unsuccessful litigation if the test were initiated and prosecuted by a Japanese resident of California in a private capacity, even though actually supported financially by the Japanese government.

WOULD PUSH CASE.

Some apprehension has been expressed by the Japanese over the difficulty of securing an early judicial decision of the constitutionality of the California legislation. The State Department, however, say they are prepared in good faith to facilitate the proceedings by every proper means, and to the extent of causing the Attorney-General to seek advancement on the docket of the Supreme Court of such a case.

MISSIONARIES TAKE A HAND.

TO ADJUST JAP PROBLEM.

[BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 16.—American missionaries in Japan affiliated with the American Board of Foreign Missions have forwarded to this country, through the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, a resolution, recently adopted, asking the council to appoint a commission looking to amicable settlement of the Japanese problem in this country. The resolution, made public today, points out that the Japanese problem in Japan, depends closely on the maintenance of friendly relations with the United States.

ORDER GUNBOAT STRIPPED.

Manila, Captured by Dewey, Serving as Prison Ship at Vellejo, to Be Sold at Auction.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VALLEJO, July 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Orders came to Manila today to strip the old gunboat Manila now serving as prison ship at this yard and prepare the little craft to be sold at auction this summer. Just what disposition will be made of the many prisoners now on the ship is not known at this time.

The Manila was formerly a formidable Spanish gunboat, but was captured at Manila Bay by Dewey in 1898. Following short service in the Orient naval officers declared it obsolete and it was returned to this yard, where it has acted as a prison ship.

Union Pacific Replies to David Lamar, Wall Street Operator, Who Testimony Started Committee.

(BY A. P. MORRIS) WAS THE THE TRICK!

NEW YORK, July 14.—The Executive Committee of the Union Pacific Railroad issued a statement tonight in reply to the charge made by David Lamar, the Wall Street operator, before the Senate Lobby Investigating Committee that an $82,000,000 forgery had been committed on the books of the Union Pacific Railroad in 1901.

The statement says that Thomas Gibson, upon two of whose "marked" letters Lamar said he had been told by Lamar, "discovered a connection with Lamar," and "acknowledges the

The committee made public a recent letter received from Gibson, in which he said that, while he had charged the balance sheet of the Union Pacific for June 30, 1901, "dubious book-keeping," he was now convinced that this characterization was "wrong."

The committee also made public a letter from a firm of public accountants, saying Gibson's use of the word "dubious book-keeping" was "entirely unwarranted" and was "based upon an entire misapprehension of the accounts" and that the balance sheet for 1901 correctly held its first position as the Union Pacific system towards the public by eliminating from both sides of the balance sheet all stocks and bonds not held by the public.

Thirty-seven so-called "social clubs," many of them not incorporated, where poker playing and other forms of gambling have been permitted to flourish unrestrained for years, were forced to close their doors early this morning by several squads of detectives acting under orders of Capt. When the case of the gamblers rounded up in the raid on the social clubs of the South End was taken up this afternoon before the police judges sitting en banc Attorney Thomas O'Connor appeared in their defense and asked the court to dismiss the charges they proposed to pursue and they made a motion continuing the case until next Thursday. The motion was granted.

"In order that we may get a decision on this point from a court of competent jurisdiction, we propose to take the case to the Supreme Court defendants. ## TO MAKE BIG RED CARS SAFE AS BABY BUGGIES.

Automatic Block Signals for Nearly All Pacific Electric Lines.

Passengers Over Pasadena, Annandale, Alhambra, Monrovia, Glendora, Pomona, Upland, Ontario, San Pedro, Long Beach, Redondo Beach, Santa Ana, Venice and Other Tracks to Be Protected by Them.

A SYSTEM of automatically-operated block signals will be installed immediately by the Pacific Electric between Anderson street, this city, and the Indian Village on the Pasadena Short Line, three miles, protecting passengers on the South Pasadena, Annandale, Pasadena Short Line, Oak Knoll, Mt. Lowe, El Molino, Alhambra-San Gabriel, Monrovia, Glendora, Sierra Madre, Pomona, Upland and Ontario lines and over which stretch service to San Bernardino will shortly be furnished.

In addition, interlocking plants, with derailing and other devices to assure the absolute mechanical safeguarding of trains will be installed at Watts, where the Redondo Beach, San Pedro, Long Beach, Santa Ana and Balboa lines diverge; at Lamanda Park, where the Pacific Electric crosses the Santa Fe; at Vineyard Junction, where the Venice Short Line and Sawtelle lines join and at Ivy Junction, where the Del Rey line branches off from the Venice Short Line.

These announcements were made yesterday by President Shoup as a supplement to the previous announcement of the proposed installation of mechanical blocking system on the Venice Short Line between Vineyard Junction and the beach town, actual work on which began yesterday when the engineering department put men at work marking out the blocking lengths and Purchasing Agent Taylor began the assembling of material for the work.

SAFE FROM TODAY.

Until this mechanical blocking system is in operation, all cars will be operated into Ivy and Vineyard Junctions under orders to not proceed until hand or lantern signals are given by men who have been stationed at points 2000 feet each way from Vineyard Junction on the Venice and Sawtelle lines and at the same distance from Ivy Junction on the Venice and Del Rey lines. Absolute orders also went forth to slow down to ten miles an hour at the slow boards approaching these two junctions.

The mechanical blocking system to be immediately installed on the Venice Short Line will be temporary and will be replaced at an early date by the automatic system of blocking. In effect, it will be a transition from the present manual blocking to the automatic blocking system, this is the latest and generally recognized as the most effective system of securing adequate protection of trains.

Features of the system will be rail attachments that will act as circuit breakers in case a car is run past a dead line with derails further on that will stop a train by running it onto the ties in case the first system should prove ineffective. This combination system will also obtain in the automatic blocking between Anderson street and the Indian Village.

NO QUESTION OF COST.

No estimate as to the cost of all this work is made by Pacific Electric on the southern division. Those shown are at Stauson Junction. The dropped arm at top of right-hand standard indicates safety, and has just admitted a car into that block. It will be raised to horizontal or "danger" as soon as the car passes the fifty-foot limit, indicating that the block is occupied. In the middle picture is an interlocking tower, the nerve center for an automatic block interlocking system. The map shows interlocking, or territory absolutely safeguarded adjacent to Vineyard and Ivy Junctions. The stations indicated by dots are those where semaphores, governing blocking operations, will be installed.

But Banning Company Asks Board of Supervisors, Sitting as Equalizers, to Reduce Estimate by a Million and a Half, Owing to Legal Halt on Improvements.

The Board of Supervisors has not yet fixed the valuation of Los Angeles county, but County Assessor Hopkins believes the new valuation on which to base the tax rate will be about $800,000,000. As there are daily sessions of the Board of Equalization at which tentative valuations are sought to be reduced, no one can tell what the total valuation will be. The board concludes its session the 21st inst. After that the reduction from present valuations will be reduced from the figures now on the books in the County Assessor's office. The county tax rate is not determined until September.

Yesterday the attorneys for the Salt Lake Railroad asked for a reduction in valuation of its property in this county from $2,837,460 to $2,148,520. The board took the matter under advisement.

Life Safeguards for Pacific Electric.

At the entrance to each block on both tracks will be semaphores signaling by day and a red light at night as indication of a train within the block and a dropped or vertical arm by day and a green or white light by night.

BRING DEAD MOTHER TO LIFE THROUGH CHILD.

Caesarean Delivery of Pronouncedly Lifeless Woman Ends Not Only in Live Birth, but Return of Parent's Heart Action—Twelve Nurses Assist Specialists.

An astounding, and probably the most remarkable caesarean operation ever performed in this country, was executed at the Good Samaritan Hospital last night when the delivery of the living child life was restored to the apparently dead body of the mother.

Mrs. A. C. Casey, wife of a teller in the Security Trust and Savings Bank, who resides at No. 4221 West Second street, is the mother.

The birth of the babe occurred at 8:20 o'clock, after a quarter of an hour's rapid skillful work by Dr. Stuart Hutchinson and his assistant, Dr. T. M. Williams, and twelve nurses.

The mother had been pronounced dead before completion of the necessary artificial respiration.

By transfusion of blood between the child and the mother, and artificial respiration induced by half a dozen extraordinary tests—among them the moving of the heart with the fingers, thus starting it pumping in time to the babe's circulatory action—the doctors' efforts were crowned with success. Life began to return.

Mother and child were not severed until the surgeons had, at 8:45 o'clock, succeeded in reviving what was, under the conditions, normal heart action. The cord was severed and the woman's respiratory powers were continued by artificial means.

At midnight the doctors pronounced both mother and child doing well and announced positively that both will live.

The mother, dying, was stricken with what was pronounced a fatal attack of convulsions while rushed from her home to the hospital. The specialists hoped to save only the child's life. Even this hope was far fetched.

EARTH SOFTLY ENFOLDS THEM.

Seven Victims of Collision Are Laid to Rest.

Simple Services Yield Them to Great Majority.

Seven More and the Tale of Sorrow Is Told.

Dust to dust, ashes to ashes, the inevitable putting away of the poor crushed bodies of the victims of Sunday night's horror has commenced. Fourteen flower-strewn, tear-stained caskets will be borne to various cities of the dead before the grim procession has its end. Six funerals yesterday, one the day before, seven, possibly more, to come.

IRWIN PLATZ.

The first of the funerals was held Tuesday afternoon at the Starling Booths Company chapel when Irwin Platz, the 17-year-old boy who spent his holiday so happily at the seashore, was buried. The lad never returned to his home, No. 1049 West Fifty-fifth street, after leaving it that fatal Saturday. Rev. Arthur C. Michel, pastor of Lutheran Trinity Church, conducted the simple service, followed by interment in Inglewood cemetery.

MERLE EVANS.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning at the Breeses chapel Rev. Clarence E. Sweet superintendent of the Methodist Mission, No. 419 Crocker street, conducted the funeral of Merle Evans to their final sanctuary in Rosemead cemetery. Evans was 24 years old, an intimate friend of Miss Veronica Miller, who was killed during a happy day at the beach and who accompanied him on the longer journey when both lives were crushed out in the collision at Vineyard Junction.

Evans lived at No. 958 South Figueroa street, almost next door to the morgue which received his body and the chapel at which the service for the dead was read in the presence of a sorrowing company of friends yesterday morning. Not far away and lovely still lay the body of Miss Miller the hour for whose funeral had not been determined yesterday.

Evans was an employee of the Chalmers-Los Angeles Automobile Company, and has lived in this city for a year, coming here from Gray's Harbor, Wash., with his father.

JACOB BARMAN.

An hour later, at the same place, Rabbi Hecht conducted the funeral service for Jacob Barman, another wreck victim; a young man whose life was filled with promise. Barman, 27 years old, was returning from a visit with his sister, Mrs. S. Simons, at Venice. He lived at No. 424 Arapahoe street and was manager of the Simons Diamond shop on South Broadway. Interment was at the Jewish cemetery.

The funeral of all four of the Pasadena victims took place there yesterday. One followed another so closely that there was almost a continuous funeral procession through the city.

MISS EDNA ALTER.

The first and the largest attended was that of Miss Edna P. Alter, the late secretary of the Pasadena Associated Charities, who was killed while held at the chapel of Turner & Stevens in the morning and the rooms were crowded to the doors with friends who came to pay their last respects. Side by side at wealthy residents of the millionaire city who had supplied funds for her bereaved mother and father, were placed to whom at a time of great trouble she had come as an angel to aid them. Floral pieces ranging from elaborate wreaths to bouquets purchased with a few pennies or of flowers picked in the yard were piled upon the casket. Rev. A. R. Tillman officiated.

"Some of you who gather here today realize that it was to promote the work of charity that she whose broken body we gather around was in our midst," he said. "Whatever plans were made we expected her to do the greatest share of this work, and it seemed we had entered in a new and better era of labor."

"When the clouds roll low and we look for a leading light, I think we shall never forget the example of this quiet, brave, humble, fragile woman. She has left a memory, a blessed thing that can be thought of, a thing that took full possession of her life, so that we pause here in blessed memory to pay tribute to this consecrated life that has been laid in our midst."

Announcement was made yesterday by Mrs. Samuel W. Eckard, chairman of the Settlement Committee of the Associated Charities that the new settlement house recently opened and dedicated in the Mexican quarter of the city, and named the Pasadena Settlement House, will probably be named the Edna P. Alter Home and thus be made a memorial of the untiring efforts of this young woman in the interests of the welfare of humankind.

The body will be taken to Colorado Springs for burial.

FRANK TALLOW.

The next largest attended funeral was that of Frank Tallow, who was head gardener for H. R. Johnston, of No. 702 South Pasadena avenue, and whose body was the last to be identified. The services were held at the chapel of Reynolds & Van Nuy at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and were attended by the Spanish War veterans of Pasadena in a body. They wore their uniforms and carried their arms, giving a semi-military aspect to the obsequies.

The members of the Pasadena Horticultural Association, of which Tallow was one of the most energetic, also attended in a body. The coffin was draped with an American flag and the floral pieces were many and beautiful. Rabbi Myers officiated. Interment was at Mountain View cemetery in Pasadena.

WILLIAM TAYLOR.

The services for William Taylor, the young painter of No. 249 North Vermont avenue, were held at the same place yesterday.

SEMI-NATIONAL AND STATE MEET

Delegates Told to "Educate and Exterminate."

Liquor Traffic Attacked as
"Red-muzzed Anarchist."

Convention Sessions Here
Until Tomorrow.

Filled with a spirit of optimism and with serene confidence in the ultimate triumph of their cause, notwithstanding repeated defeats at the polls, members of the Prohibition party gathered in a semi-national and state conference at the Church of the Nazarene, East Sixth and Wall streets, Tuesday morning for a three-day session.

The key words of the convention are: "Organization," "Concentration," "Legislation" and "Crystallization." At the earlier sessions a practical element was strikingly apparent, some of the delegates lining up for a campaign which would follow the plan of "plumping" for candidates for such offices as have to do with framing and executing laws relating to the liquor traffic and the so-called white slave trade, and not squandering effort on lesser offices. W. G. Calderwood, state chairman of the Prohibition party in Minnesota, took advanced ground on this proposition, and while he aroused some opposition among the old "wheel horses" of the party, his stand was approved by strong party men.

The church is profusely decorated with national flags. Many banners were displayed on the walls, with such battle cries inscribed on them as: "California Dry in 1914," "A Saloonless Nation in 1920," "The Liquor Traffic Is Our Greatest Evil; Kill It With Your Ballot," "The Liquor Traffic Is the Mother of Trusts, Crime and Political Corruption; the Prohibition Party Will Kill It," "Three Million Children Employed in Child Labor; Free the Slaves," "The Prohibition Party Is the Only Party Opposed to the Liquor Traffic."

A feature rather at variance with usually accepted ideas of political conventions was the semi-religious atmosphere, the earnest singing of gospel hymns and the fervent "amen" during the opening prayer, or at some particularly telling point made by the speakers.

FAITH IN YOUNG.
The principal speaker at the opening session was General Secretary William Shaw of the Christian Endeavor Society, who explained, "Why I Became a Voting Prohibitionist." Shaw expressed great faith in the sincerity of the action taken Monday by the young people of the Christian Endeavor convention, who, among other resolutions, adopted a total abstinence pledge, and what was more striking, a new declaration of independence, as they called it, which read in part: "Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength, no political candidate or party not declaring for the destruction of the liquor traffic can have my support or vote."

Shaw said he had been converted from the non-partisan view of prohibition work. "I see now," he said, "that it is not a question of partisanship, but of principle. I am through with regulation of the traffic after legalizing it. We must take from the liquor business all governmental sanction and go out of partnership with this mother of crime and debauchery of citizenship. As I see it, the remedy lies in voting for men who will make laws that will prohibit, and for an administration which will enforce them."

Addresses of welcome were made on Tuesday afternoon by State Chairman Charles E. Burger on behalf of the Prohibitionists; by Mrs. Lucy S. Blanchard, president of the Southern California W.C.T.U.; by O. W. Blain, past grand chief templar of Michigan for the Good Templars; by Rev. E. F. Ryland, pastor of the First M. E. Church, Hollywood, and president of the Southern California Church Federation, for the churches of Los Angeles.

The response was made by Daniel A. Polling, educational secretary of the National Prohibition Committee. Virgil G. Hinshaw, national chairman of the Prohibition party, stated that at Indianapolis five months ago a conference of prohibition workers was held at which was outlined a programme for a nation-wide movement to support no party not having a prohibition plank in its platform. It is hoped, with the help of the Christian Endeavorers and twenty-five other organizations of similar character, to have 5,000,000 persons pledged to the programme by 1920, and to raise $1,000,000 to prosecute the work.

In introducing W. G. Calderwood, state chairman of the Prohibition party in Minnesota, Chairman Burger said the work in Minnesota is better organized than in any other State. Calderwood said it is absolutely useless to organize a Prohibition party unless it is to get somewhere.

THE PURPOSE.
"The end and the method," he said, "are to be kept constantly in mind. The purpose of this party is the overthrow of the liquor traffic. How? By electing to legislative and administrative offices those who would have to do with carrying out prohibition principles, and not wasting time with non-essential offices."

Remarks from the floor were called for, and a few dissenters from Calderwood's plan, but the majority agreed with him. He stated that the plan was adopted in Minnesota in 1904 and in the past six years that State has elected more Prohibitionists to office than all the other States put together. The vote of that party in Minnesota, he said, made a gain of $1,000 last year.

Safe as Baby Buggies.

a red light for danger or a white or green light for safety depends on the position of the semaphore arm, the raising of the arm obscuring the white or green light and revealing the red light and vice-versa.

The whole significance of the blocking system is that automatic and absolute spacing of trains will be obtained. It will not be a hit or miss system of deciding, or even a visual system but absolute, incontrovertible evidence that there is or is not a train ahead.

The mechanical blocking system that is to be temporarily installed on the Venice line will consist of a combination telephone and signal light system, with lights and telephones at the entrance to each block. At each the conductor will alight and telephone to the next blocking point, where an operator will be situated. In case all is clear he will throw a controller which will cause a red light by night and a small fan by day to come into view at the blocking station immediately back of him.

It is estimated that this system can be installed within a week or ten days. Meanwhile the manual blocking system will govern all trains operating over the Venice Short Line or approaching Ivy or Vineyard Junctions.

According to President Shoup, instructions have already been given covering the plans, installation and purchase of material for the interlocking and block signal systems. There are many details to be worked out, however, which will take some time. The end of the summer, however, will probably see most of the work finished.

At present the Pacific Electric has interlocking plants at Amoco, where the Santa Monica Air Line branches off from the Southern division, at Slauson Junction, the crossing of the Santa Fe and Pacific lines, and at the Whittier line branches off; and at Dominguez Junction, where the San Pedro, Long Beach and Balboa lines diverge.

That Minority Report.

SHALL IGNORE MILLS,"
SAYS THE CORONER.

HARTWELL refused to discuss the minority report of G. E. Mills, one of the jurymen who returned a verdict of guilty against the late John D. Mills, who was killed by a train on the Pacific coast line.

"I will not discuss either the verdict or the places of the jurymen," he said, "as it is the duty of the coroner to sign the majority verdict."

The coroner's jury which returned the verdict of guilty against Mills was composed of four persons who were sworn in by the coroner.

Quadruples—Two Years

E. Crippen and Robert M. Allen, Jr., of W. H. Allen & Son, appeared as expert witnesses.

It was shown that the valuation of the tidelands, title to which is now in litigation, was $482,000 in 1911; $1,287,970 in 1912, and $2,884,235 in 1913. The lawyers for the Bannings asked that the present assessed valuation be reduced to at least $1,500,000.

The reduction was asked for on the ground that no improvements can be made owing to the litigation over the title to the 412 acres of tidelands, now in the hands of the Supreme Court.

Representatives of the Exchange building, Third and Hill streets, asked for a reduction of assessment from $110,000 to $95,000.

Make Cannon of Wood. [Scientific American:] Anyone familiar with the construction of modern weapons of warfare and the high explosives used in them would naturally suppose one cannon made of wood would be of little or no value as a weapon.

Wooden cannons have been used with considerable success, nevertheless, in recent revolutions in Cuba, in Haiti and in the Dominican Republic.

The wood used in the construction of these crude weapons is a very tough variety, having a twisted grain that curls about the log in such a way that to split the timber with the ordinary means is almost impossible.

The best trees are selected and a piece of the log five or six feet in length and about one foot in diameter is cut. After the bark has been removed and the log made perfectly round, it is swung upon a crude truck and a hole is bored into it from one end. The log is wound with strips of rawhide cut from the skin of a steer. When the cannon is covered with the strips of hide another layer is wound on, and this is continued until the weapon has increased several inches in diameter.

After the log is covered and the bore is finished the weapon is treated to a hot draft, which tends to contract the hide binding, which becomes almost as strong as wire.

These crude cannons have been used with success in a number of instances, and it is astonishing the number of times they may be fired before they burst or become otherwise disabled.

A Long-Lived Clock. [The Argonaut:] Of all the machines made by man none can compare for long-life with the clock. The life of a clock is as much longer than that of any other machine as the life of a man is longer than that of a dog.

The French clock of Rouen that was made in the year 1380 and is still keeping good time. Except for cleaning and a few necessary repairs, it has never stopped during a period of more than five centuries. That is real mind cure.

Anyone can find frequently during the day a minute or two in which to come out of the working self into the upbuilding self.

While it takes but a minute, it builds for a good many minutes.

Sparrow Sets Fire to Roof. [Baltimore American:] A new manner of starting a fire was discovered yesterday morning when a little sparrow, picking on the head of a sparrow, set fire to its nest under the roof of a vacant stable owned by Philip Grill, Halsthorpe, Md., in the rear of No. 1529 Hynd street.

The little creature was so frightened at the sudden blaze which started up that with a noisy twitter, it fell to the ground dead.

Only a few minutes before some workmen standing on a nearby corner had been watching the bird fly back and forth carrying chips and straw with which to strengthen its nest. Picking up a match which was lying in the street it flew up under the roof and remained there picking at it.

Soon after the men saw the nest take fire and then spread to the roof of the stable.

One of them ran to No. 17 engine company, Fort avenue and Hubbard street, which soon arrived on the scene and extinguished the blaze.

Cocunut Rafts. [Philadelphia Record:] Cocunut palms grow luxuriantly in many parts of the Philippine Islands, and there is a large demand for the nuts among the people who live in the cities and towns.

The method of bringing them to the market at Manila is both simple and picturesque. The cocoanuts are brought to the banks of the River Pasig, a rough framework of bamboo poles is constructed, and on this the nuts are piled so as to form a raft. Three or four men then pole the curious craft down stream into the city of Manila.

Superfluous Hair Truths. There are but few depilatories sold. You think there are hundreds because you have used the same identical preparations under several different names. This is easily explained. Women stop using.

So-Called Hair Removers. When they learn that they are harmful. Therefore, they can not be sold under the same name for any length of time. Then the identical, worthless, harmful concoctions are given new names and advertised again as totally different preparations to Defraud the Same Foolish Women who innocently buy them over and over again under different names, and this will continue as long as women are so unwise as to experiment with unknown, so-called hair removers.

DeMiracle. Has Stood the Test of Time. DeMiracle has been sold as DeMiracle for over eleven years, and its name has never been changed. It is acknowledged the world over by eminent authorities as the one safe, perfected hair remover, therefore it is the only depilatory you can use without experimenting.

Leaves No Tell-Tale Smell. If you use DeMiracle it will be impossible for any curious person to know that you have used a hair remover because DeMiracle evaporates immediately after accomplishing its work, therefore leaves no tell-tale smell. On the other hand, if you use any depilatory with a distinctive odor, so effective, tell-tale smell will cling to your skin for hours.

Today the funeral of Y. Gangluchi will be held at Pierce Brothers, and probably that of Mrs. G. C. Norman. In every instance extreme simplicity has marked the ceremonies.

RECOMES FEMALE. Attorney C. M. Moonin stated in the Juvenile Court yesterday that if his client, Jacob Uran, violated the law by marrying Sarah Katoff by the Russian custom, then approximately 500 other couples are guilty, as that number of weddings had been performed in Little Russia without the formality of a license.

A year ago Judge Wilbur instructed a Russian minister to inform his people that they must apply for a license when marriages were contemplated. The Russians replied they did not care for the American law. The matter will now be taken to the Federal government.

The specific violation cropped out during the trial of Uran for having contributed to the dependency of Sarah and the further charge that he paid $100 to her parents for her.

NOT IDENTIFIED AS SAME WOMAN.

Temple Block Informer Views
Detective's Catch.

Suspect Jeweler's Assault
of Pendell Killing.

Prisoner Declared to Have a
Police Record.

Police detectives are working on the theory that the perpetrators of the Carson diamond robbery on West Pico street may be the mysterious man and woman sought in connection with the Pendell murder. Similarity in the two crimes has aroused unusual activity.

Added efforts are being made to capture a man thought to be Elmer Vancel, a barber from Omaha, as Mrs. Ida Morrison, the woman prisoner, who was in the rear room of the old curio shop when the diamonds were stolen, confessed to the detectives yesterday that she had lied in her first statement.

The suggestion that Vancel and Mrs. Morrison answer the descriptions given by Attorney Fuentes of the man and woman seen leaving the office of Pendell the afternoon of the murder, fell something in the nature of a bombshell in detective headquarters.

Captain of Detectives Flammner at once put his best officers to work hunting the man whose capture now becomes doubly important. Attorney Fuentes said Harry Pendell, son of the murdered money lender, were called to Central Station, where they looked at Mrs. Morrison. Fuentes refused to say that she is the woman he saw.

The description of Vancel, a man apparently 40 years old; curly hair tinged with gray; weight about 160 pounds; smooth-shaven and intelligent appearing, fits the description of the man said to have been seen by Fuentes.

Young Pendell failed to recognize Mrs. Morrison as one of his father's clients. The chief of detectives in speaking of the matter last night admitted that his men are working along the lines indicated, but declined to enter into speculation as to what is likely to develop.

CREDITS THEORY.
That he gave some credence to the theory was evidenced by the fact that an exhaustive statement was taken from Mrs. Morrison covering as near as possible her movements prior and up to the time of the Pendell killing. As yet no formal charge has been filed against the woman.

Despite her protestations of innocence, the police say Mrs. Morrison is not unknown to them. She is said to have been arrested last April, accused of having obtained money under false pretenses. At that time, the detectives say, she represented herself as the wife of a wealthy lawyer who had since died. There was no prosecution.

Mrs. Morrison insisted to the detectives the day of her arrest that her companion's name was Elmer Clayton, even going so far as to accompany the officers to the various railroad stations in a search for him. She repudiated this story yesterday.

Subsequently, she denied that she did this to shield the robber, but declared her purpose was to protect her 15-year-old daughter, who, according to the mother's story, is the fiancée of Vancel's brother.

Detectives learned that Vancel, alias Clayton, attempted to dispose of the stolen diamonds shortly after the robbery. He appeared in a pawn shop, so the detectives say, and wanted to get money on the gems.

The yellow ribbon on which the rings were kept by Carson, the old curio dealer, was found in the store, said Paul M. N. Rogers, vice-president of the J. F. Lucey Company of this city yesterday. He, with R. W. Andrews, Pacific Coast representative of the Mark Company of Alhambra, A. Hiroto, manager of the Mitsui Company of San Francisco, and T. Iki, geological expert for the Nippon Oil Company, were refused service in the Chocolate Shop, Pasadena, on Monday.

"The Japanese expressed no great astonishment at this uncivil treatment," said Rogers, who referred to it as not an unusual thing to be met with in America. We had waited nearly half an hour before we were informed that no service could be given us and our Japanese friends merely smiled at our apologies.

"The companies they represent have in the past year purchased to the extent of $1,500,000, and their business has been on the increase ever since. This means much to the commercial life of a city of this size. A slight such as they were subjected to the other day might mean the entire loss of not only the exportations of these concerns, but also numerous others.

"It is not the desire of the two distinguished Japanese visitors to take up the matter, but it seems as though our merchants and citizens in general should realize the importance of fostering better relations in order to increase the commercial activities between the countries. We are always preaching expansion of trade to foreign lands. This certainly is no means of accomplishing that end.

"When the management of the Chocolate Shop was apprised of this matter, immediate and profuse apologies were forthcoming."

"Naturally, we are forced to be careful of the class of trade we cater to, but it was certainly lack of discretion on the part of one of our employees in affording this slight to the foreign visitors," said the proprietor.

Earl Harris, manager of the Pasadena shop, stated that he knew nothing of what had happened until the affair was brought to his attention by the secretary of the Pasadena Board of Trade. "We have never discriminated against nice-class Japanese," he said, "and it was a serious error on the part of one of the clerks."

T. Iki, one of the foremost oil engineers of the Japanese empire, has been visiting the oil fields of Southern California, comparing the oil produced here with that of Japan, and studying methods of refining.

A. Hiroto, one of the most influential Japanese on the Coast, represents one of the two largest export companies operating in this country. They left yesterday for San Francisco.

MODERN SOLOMON.
The suit of Constantino Garibaldi, vineyardist, against his wife, Bianchina, was described as a tragedy by Judge Conley yesterday, and instead of finding judgment he took a lead from Solomon, told them to get together and come to court this morning so he could adjust matters.

Garibaldi died his $75,000 holdings to his wife in 1906, when he was sent to a sanatorium. For two years he was insane. When he recovered, he asked his wife to deed back the property to him. She refused, although she did not repudiate the gift.

"Oxygen is a thing that has eight atoms," she was afraid her husband might have a relapse.

Judge Conley told them they ought to trust the property between themselves and place it in the hands of a trustee or agree on an arbitrator.

Mrs. Ida Morrison.

Whose movements and that of an alleged accomplice in a diamond robbery are being investigated by the police with a view to throwing light on the Pendell murder.

SEEKS FULSOME PRAISE.

[Beaumont Gazette:] The Los Angeles Tribune has issued an anniversary number containing all the praise for the sheet it could extract from the community by earnest solicitation. The editor of this paper received the following telegram:

LOS ANGELES, July 4.
A. J. Burdick, Gazette, Beaumont, Cal.

On Sunday the Tribune will publish its second anniversary edition. It is gathering from its friends expressions of opinion. If you feel that the Tribune has been a factor for good for Southern California during the past two years we would be pleased to publish such a statement under your signature. Would like also to use a photograph if you will send it to the office. The filing of your statement by wire today will be appreciated.

THE LOS ANGELES TRIBUNE.
The editor of this paper will forego the honor of having his picture in the Tribune. That paper was originated for the purpose of building up the political fortunes of one E. T. Barr, whose ambition is to be a dictator of the politics of this State. His paper has not been noted for generosity of opinion, liberality of views, or cleanliness of methods. In the recent majority election its candidate was defeated by the vote of the better element of Los Angeles. The Tribune, smarting from defeat, editorially announced in substance that the slums and underworld candidate had been elected, and went forth to the world the impression that Los Angeles was given over to vice and degradation.

The Tribune was denounced from the pulpit, was condemned by resolution of the women's clubs and other organizations, was rebuked by the withdrawal of advertising patronage and the cancelling of subscriptions. It is, perhaps, natural that it should solicit words of praise, under the circumstances.

The Tribune claims to be politically Progressive. There are three branches of the political party of that name in this State. One is the Hiram Johnson brand, which aims to build and maintain a machine which shall make Johnson the dictator and manipulator of the destinies of the State. That branch has control and the Tribune is its organ.

Another branch is the Lamer brand, which aims to make Lamer the dictator and manipulator of the destinies of the State. That branch has control and the Tribune is its organ.

A third branch is the E. T. Barr brand, which aims to make Barr the dictator and manipulator of the destinies of the State. That branch has control and the Tribune is its organ.

The Tribune is a political machine, and its purpose is to build up the political fortunes of one E. T. Barr, whose ambition is to be a dictator of the politics of this State.

MADEIRA, July 17.—The Pasadena Socialists, who last fall attempted to make Central Park the ground for their propaganda, who were finally prevented by the City Council, are now besieging the new Commissioners for permission to use the old park.

FORMER MAYOR NAMED. Defendant in "Blind Pig" Case Says Harper Was a Member of His "Club."

The name of former Mayor Harper was mentioned in a "blind pig" case on trial yesterday before a San Diego justice of the peace. James Arnes, the defendant, is accused of having sold liquor in a "dry" district. The defense is that he sold to only club members, among these being Harper.

Joe Faciliano, proprietor of the saloon, had just opened the place and was talking with the early arrivals when the three men entered. One walked to the rear of the room and at a signal all drew automatic pistols and ordered the men in the room to hold up their hands.

While the two in front kept the men covered, the third robber got busy relieving the victims of their money, watches and other jewelry.

One of the men asked that a picture in the back of his watch be given back to him, but no attention was paid to the request. Taking a flask of whisky the robbers ran from the room, threatening to shoot anyone who dared follow. They were seen to get into a waiting automobile, which was soon out of sight.

Three masked robbers intimidated the proprietor and eight patrons of a saloon at No. 337 East First street early yesterday morning, and, after firing several shots, rifled the cash register, searched the victims and escaped in an automobile. The whole transaction occupied not more than three minutes, but the robbers secured $75 in money in addition to the watches and small change taken from the bar patrons.

Three masked robbers intimidated the proprietor and eight patrons of a saloon at No. 337 East First street early yesterday morning, and, after firing several shots, rifled the cash register, searched the victims and escaped in an automobile. The whole transaction occupied not more than three minutes, but the robbers secured $75 in money in addition to the watches and small change taken from the bar patrons.

Joe Faciliano, proprietor of the saloon, had just opened the place and was talking with the early arrivals when the three men entered. One walked to the rear of the room and at a signal all drew automatic pistols and ordered the men in the room to hold up their hands.

While the two in front kept the men covered, the third robber got busy relieving the victims of their money, watches and other jewelry.

One of the men asked that a picture in the back of his watch be given back to him, but no attention was paid to the request. Taking a flask of whisky the robbers ran from the room, threatening to shoot anyone who dared follow. They were seen to get into a waiting automobile, which was soon out of sight.

Wouldn't a Chorus Girl Envy These?

Nicholas Peter Snyder, Of Venice, two-and-a-half years old, who leads for the beach city in the Better Baby Show.

A Better Baby.

FINEST PAIR OF LEGS ON WHOLE COAST LINE.

VENICE, July 15.—If there are many handsome, more shapely babies in the county than 2-year-old Nicholas Peter Snyder, Venice, Little Master Snyder will be surprised of the fact and shown the baby. Little Master Snyder will be the leading Venetian entry in the "Better Baby Show of the Million Club" Melting Pot, which opens Saturday in Los Angeles.

"Will he get the first prize?" echoed Mrs. Peter Snyder, mother of the pulchritudinous infant, when the question was asked of her. "If he does not, the judges will have been poorly selected."

Little "Nick" is well known to the beach habitués. He spends much of his time in his tiny blue bathing suit and is strictly an outdoor person. He fears not the towering breakers and can swallow as much salt water and smile as the average infant bather.

So shapely are his limbs that the average stranger, spying him in his sea dress, accounts him with "Hello, little girl." It is then that little "Nick" bristles up and indignantly repudiates the sex.

Nicholas spends much time on his "developing machine," which his father has rigged up at home. He has not a superfluous ounce on his forty-one pounds of anatomy and there is all kinds of confidence along the silver strands of Santa Monica Bay that the pride of Venice will capture the first premium.

Whittier, Pomona and Anaheim Packers Named in Patent Rights Case—Injunction Asked.

Fred Stahler brought suit against a number of fruit companies in the United States District Court to recover damages for the alleged use of patented packers and trucks.

Among the defendants are the Whittier Citrus Association, Pomona Fruit Growers' Association and Anaheim Orange Growers' Association.

F. S. Lyster, counsel for Stahler, asks for an injunction pending a hearing on the patent rights which, it is alleged, Stahler bought from the original inventor.

Wife Fulfills Pledge of Suicide Pact.

Deed Veiled by Another's Similar Death.

Husband, Who Changed His Mind, Arrested.

His Word.

After pledging his wife that he would go with her across the Coast Divide, where financial troubles are unknown, John George Boyle, a hotel-keeper of No. 1661 Oslavia street, San Francisco, changed his mind.

His wife, with Spartan courage, made the journey. She is dead. Boyle is in the County Jail charged with having aided and abetted a suicide, a unique charge covering an unusual offense.

Boyle and his wife reached Redondo Beach Sunday night from San Francisco, and decided Tuesday night that life held nothing more for them and they would die together. The woman waded into the surf and disappeared.

Her purse was found yesterday on the beach. This led investigators to the Savoy Hotel, where ## Scholarship.

Thursday morning count, as a means of identification at the launch party.

EXCURSION INSTRUCTIONS.

A few final words about the moonlight excursion this evening. The working, talking contestants are to meet at 8:15 o'clock at Gate No. 9, Pacific Electric station, Los Angeles. Promptness is necessary, as an early start means a longer time on the water. The American Potash Company (Inc.) will have in waiting at the Pacific Electric station a special trolley car which they have chartered for the evening, and the contestant party will be conveyed to Long Beach where, at the wharf of the American Potash Company (Inc.), one of the launches belonging to this company will be in readiness to start upon a cruise upon the ocean, counting up and down in the moonlight. The return to the city will be made in ample time to get to the homes at a reasonable hour.

It is to be regretted that there are some of the contestants who live so far away that they will be unable to attend this, the first trip since the opening of the campaign.

Harold Tilton writes that he will not be able to go unless some kind friend will call for him with an automobile and take him to the city and home after the excursion. If any one is able to do this, Harold will be grateful. It is especially difficult for him to get about owing to his terrible misfortune—the loss of both legs; but he is as anxious to meet and become acquainted with the other contestants as any one.

By the way, Harold, striving as every one was to get in a big score before the launch party, sent in his score yesterday, but the mails were late and his score did not get into the office in time to be verified and counted with the day's tally. This is too bad, for it would have placed Harold at sixth place. The scores have to be verified in the morning, and then come to scholarship headquarters to be counted, and if the mails are late they cannot get through the business office after business hours and the count cannot be made as the money and the points must tally. This explains why delays occur and why they are unavoidable. However, the count is there and is just as good when it does come through.

I am still hoping that the city cousins, sisters and aunts will have arranged to invite the out-of-town boys and girls to spend the night in their homes in town, after the launch party.

PERCY PICKERING.

Percy Pickering made his first call at scholarship headquarters yesterday. Percy is but 13 years of age and has been in San Pedro High School half a year. Percy is a good student as any one can tell by this record. He is also a hard worker in the Scholarship Contest as is proved by the fact that he stands among the leaders of the tally list. Percy occasionally skips a grade at school and he is just as likely to skip a place on the tally list going up above the big ones. "I mean to be a civil engineer," said Percy, "and I would like a good education for a foundation in that career. Of course, I would like to win first prize." Percy continued, "but if I can't win first, I shall be glad to have any prize which will help me to secure a thorough education and fit me for life." He is a very manly, polite and thoughtful boy and one in whom it is impossible not to become interested. Percy will join the scholarship crowd in the launch of the American Potash Company for the trip this evening, coming over from San Pedro, direct. He is looking forward to the new vacation at Catalina at the close of the contest.

Up and Down Broadway.

SELMA PALEY TO BE REAL STAR.THAT IS WHAT REHEARSALS OF "SHERRY" INDICATE.

Veterans at Soldiers' Home to See Film Story of Reunion at Gettysburg—Willie Collier May Come to Los Angeles—New Vehicle for Bruce McRea.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

It is the hardest thing in the world to pick a stage winner in advance. That is why managers have so many plays that fall and so many stars who do not come up to expectations, so it is with some temerity and all the strings I can possibly tie to the statement, that I assert that in Selma Paley, Oliver Morosco has a real musical comedy star.

And I am basing my statement on the rehearsals of "Madam Sherry," at which I have taken a quiet peek on more than one occasion. Miss Paley has been uniformly acceptable in everything in which she has appeared, and only the other day I was trying vainly to recall that other musical comedy in which she appeared and scored so heavily.

Anyway, it makes no difference, but speaking in stage terms, I actually believe that she is prettier than ever, and certain it is that her voice, which was always good, has improved wonderfully. Already I can see New York engagements looming up in the distance.

Of course, all the theatergoers who had the time dropped in at Pantages yesterday to see Laurie Ordway, the clever little English girl, who came to being snuffed here instead of headlined. Personally, I don't like her stuff, for it is very English and very raw, and if put on in a burlesque house would hardly get by the censor.

But that does not detract one whit from her real talent, and the fact that she pleased the vast majority of the audience makes my opinion count for little.

Carl Walker tells me that he has invited the veterans of the Soldiers' Home to come to Pantages this week to see his guests, so that they can see the films of the Battle of Gettysburg, which are part of the regular bill this week. It will be the next best thing to being present and the "boys in blue" are all anticipation for the treat in store for them.

Bruce McRea, who you will recollect I designated as the only real matinee idol now in captivity, at the time he was here with Blanche Bates in "Nobody's Widow," has joined the Cohen & Harris forces and writes me that he is to be starred in the fall in a new play called "Nearly Married."

Raymond Hitchcock closes his season in the "Red Widow" this week. He is going directly to New York with his wife, Flora Zabelle, and will be immediately replaced by a new place.

Some time when he wants to give the public a real treat, Morosco might let them in to a rehearsal as "Madame Sherry" is now getting under the direction of James Earl, James was the producer of the original show, but when it was announced that he was to be brought out here to stage the Burbank production, at a fabulous salary, I thought someone had gone crazy.

Take it all back. He certainly is there, and if ever raw recruits are better whittled into shape for an A. A. opening I would like to know about it.

I can't say that I think much of the way Forest Stanley takes a vacation. He is up at the Alcazar in Fresno, doing the same thing he did here, a good fight at Vernon, he is certain to be on hand and will pay his own fare too. Willie is a great comedian, but he is a better sport.

Got into Brink's last night by mistake. Instead of Levy's, and nearly had heart failure when he should come tripping down the "crazy" path way by Doris and Fay LaGré. It is the first time I had seen them since they were doing big time east of the river, a good fight at Vernon, he is certain to be on hand and will pay his own fare too. Willie is a great comedian, but he is a better sport.

Does anyone want to make a bet with me that Blanche Bates will not be at the Burbank Theater Thursday matinee? Collier will, I have my part, but that is the house where she got her first start and if she doesn't like the opportunity to visit it, I will be mighty surprised. I'm going away, just to find out.

RAILWAYS SWAP STOCKS.

Pennsylvania Delivers Baltimore and Ohio Securities in Exchange for Southern Pacific Issue.

PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—In accordance with the plan recently approved by the United States Court for the dissolution of the Union Pacific Southern Pacific merger, the exchange of stock of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for stock of the Southern Pacific owned by the Union Pacific took place today.

The Southern Pacific stock purchased by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company was $28,824 shares, with a par value of $2,882,400. The Baltimore and Ohio stock sold by the Pennsylvania was 212,736 shares of preferred and 212,736 shares of common, with a total par value of $41,479,200. The preferred stock of the Baltimore and Ohio was sold to the Union Pacific for $30 a share, and the common at par. The Southern Pacific stock was sold at par. The money consideration due to each of the purchasing railroads was the same except for an additional $30 in cash which the Union Pacific paid for an odd share of Baltimore and Ohio preferred.

Mrs. George Gould, it is reported, is backing her son-in-law in a demand suit against Architects Who Built Mansion That Plaintiff Calls "Rotten."

Some of the charges were entered in the bill twice. Work for which $1500 is charged was never done. They have charged me for the wages of men who never existed."

The plaintiff claims compensation of $25,000. The case is expected to last eight or ten days. Lord Decies is paying $1250 daily as a retainer to his lawyers.

CATCHER KREITZ RELEASED.

Club Must Let Man Go. Kreitz Handicapped by Malign of Tigers Goes Into Be Arrayed in Full Dress.

WITTH Charley Kreitz due to arrive here at any moment now, the Tiger payroll is in imminent danger of losing one of its members.

Ralph Kreitz is the man slated for release, according to the latest available source of information.

Ralph has a couple of busted fingers and this makes him a promising target for the blue envelope. However, he probably would be released and given a chance to fight it out with Elliott and Sterrett.

But with the arrival of Sterrett, the club will be under the necessity of letting a player go.

President Maier is Training. Eddie Maier has gone into training. That's no joke.

Maier doesn't claim to be a white horse, even though he looks better equipped to reclaim Jeffries' lost horse than most of those now in the reclining business.

His one and enduring object in view into training is to trim himself down from 250 to 215 pounds, the latter being estimated as his best natural weight.

CATCHER KREITZ TO BE RELEASED BY VENICE.

Club Must Let Man Go to Make Room for Sterrett. Kritz Handicapped by Broken Hand—President of Tigers Goes Into Training—White Sox to Be Arrived in Full Dress.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
Up to the first half of the season less than a week's play behind the league leaders, and this in the face of innumerable reverses, the Tigers were in a position to leave a trail of smoke in the next three months and a half. They are some stretch runners.

Paul Armstrong, playwright, erstwhile sporting scribe, inventor of "The Escape" and other devices, constant witness of the daily troubles at Washington Park and the first man to discover the subtle relation between "The Escape" and "The Tiger" is now in the city. He is now in the city. He is now in the city.

Armstrong, it developed yesterday, made his offer on behalf of the owners of the Montreal club in the International Association. He also planned to take a slice of it himself. Armstrong, being a personal friend of John J. McGraw, asked the latter to estimate the value of the Venice club as an investment. This explains why McGraw's name came to be mentioned in connection with the offer.

"I should worry,"—Chance. "I should worry,"—always interpreted in the negative, is the happy state attained by Frank Chance.

When Frank was at the head of the Chicago Cubs, generally champions under his guidance, he was less than a contender, he did some tall worrying. Troubled days and sleepless nights made each race a severe ordeal for him.

Nothing bothers him now. Not even a collection of tallenders. If there is anything calculated to hasten a manager to a premature demise, it is a tallender. Contrary to general belief, Chance has not contracted an additional wrinkle since taking hold of the New York Yankees.

TWO GOOD ONES ARE DUE TODAY.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two light champions are due to arrive in this city tomorrow, in San Francisco from Australia and Arthur Pelkey from Canada. Langford has been tied up by financial difficulties in Australia for several years and Pelkey is almost equally well known through his fight with Luther McCarty, in which the latter died in the ring.

There is nothing in sight here for Langford at this time, but Jimmy Coffroth is trying to arrange a match between Pelkey and big Jess Willard, now in Los Angeles.

Impossible to fathom the actual stakes of affairs. The association is now a four-club organization with a three-town circuit. The Long Beach club, transferred to Santa Barbara, has been unable to get a foothold in that city, and for the last two weeks has been a road team—a club without a place to lay its head.

Tenneman May Retire. Charles Tenneman, whilom Tiger, and later Beaver, is on the verge of retiring from baseball. Tenneman arrived here from the North yesterday. He has a chance to play in the Southern League, but does not fancy the idea. The Coast continues to look good to him.

"I can't get on with some club out there, or in one of the larger eastern leagues, the chances are that I will quit the game for good," said Tenneman.

Victor Once More. M'CORMICK IS AGAIN THE STAR. OREGON STATE PLAYERS EASY FOR D.A.A.C. LAD.

SPARK-PLUG MCLOSKEY.

Protests That Kid Williams Has Not Received as Much Credit as Was Coming to Him—He Was Just as Brave as Was the Little Frenchman, Le Doux—Spark-plug Discourses on Training.

"TURN" off the gloom, Spark-plug! Editor as a familiar figure sat down on the copy table with a fat grunt. "You are so grouchy you look like an eclipse of the sun."

"I ain't grouchy," corrected Spark-plug. "I'm afraid to smile for fear you might hand me a package like this morning in your fight write-up. Ain't you newspaper guys the kind-hearted little parties, though? Huh?"

"After seeing a fight like that, all you can think of is that Kid Williams comes into the ring with a self-satisfied smile on his face. What did you want him to do? Come into the ring crying into a handkerchief? Sit, sobbing in his corner while they are fastening on the tape and spit balls on the other guy's shoulders when they get into a clinch? All he done was to grin a little at his friends, and he thought he'd better grin while the grinning was good."

"LeDoux was a brave little fellow," observed the Sporting Editor, with the crafty intention of changing the subject. "Yeh? Well, I guess Kid Williams was a regular fraud-cut," said Spark-plug, grudgingly. "He was wraded into that Frenchman's swings cause he liked 'em? I guess he took all them sledge-hammer pokes on the snout just to pass the time?"

"You guys all nutty over that frog-ear," continued Spark-plug, surly. "All you have to do to make a hit with a newspaper is to talk the English language with a flat wheel and say 'Oo, la, la,' and shrug your shoulders."

"You remember that there actorine, Mizzy Hajos? Huh? When she first come over from Yurp or wherever she came from, she was a real beauty. She was a 'wocosa me' and a few words of chicken hash conversation. The newspapers all t'rew fits over her. The next year, she learned how to talk regular English and nobody paid no more for her. They said she was getting too fat, and told her to lose it. I took her down to the train and she was crying so hard that I clean forgot to collect the rent for my wagon."

By the time this guy LeDoux learns to cuss a few words of English, you'll all turn agin him and an him for grinning at his friends. If he's a wise guy, he will be like old Anna Field. Anna has been over here so long she don't remember enough French to pay for a boiled egg; but she still hangs onto the fricasseeed talk and the 'wis' stuff."

CHANCE SAYS HE WAS "FLIMMED" BY CALLAHAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND (O.), July 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Yes, I have presented the case to President Johnson," replied Frank Chance, manager of the New York Yankees, when asked about the story that he got a raw deal in the Chase-Zelder-Borton deal.

"Callahan told me Zelder was in shape to play and he misrepresented Borton to me. At the time Zelder was laid up with a bunion and I am told Callahan knew all about it. Zelder tells me that Callahan was aware of his condition and knew he wouldn't be able to play for some time. Zelder is now in the hospital and may be laid up the rest of the season. Borton was also represented to me by Callahan as a much different player than he proved to be. I feel that I was cheated and I expect to fight the matter out with the league officials."

WHITE SOX ARE SURPRISED AT IT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] White Sox officials were mildly surprised today with a report from New York saying that the recent trade between the Sox and the Yankees will be the subject of an investigation by the league authorities. It is claimed that Manager Frank Chance says that Manager Callahan of the Sox that both men were physically fit for big league ball. It is said further that Zelder had been spiked two weeks before the trade was made and it may be weeks before he is back in the game. Borton was also represented as a different player than he is, according to the charge.

COMISKEY LAUGHS.

Callahan and Comiskey laughed at the story and were inclined to believe it was a "bunk." They say that any action is unwarranted because a trade is a trade and in this case New York not only urged the deal, but Callahan himself picked Zelder and Borton from his own seven men. Callahan had named. He wanted these two men in preference to the others.

CLAM BILL WILL SOON BE A LAW.

Information has been received from this city that the Governor has signed what is known as the clam bill, which is to go into effect August 12. After that date it will be unlawful to catch more than twenty-five clams per day. The limit now being ten per day. It is understood that several wholesale fish houses are trying the experiment of selling down clams in barrels for future use and if the fish will take these, or also the stinkier shrimps, will have to fall back on mussels, which are said to be good bait.

OFF AFTER TROUT.

Bernal Dyes, Dr. Clarence Moore and Dr. E. R. Smith have gone to the Snake River country in Idaho on a ten-days' fishing trip.

THE AGE OF SPECIALISTS.

The modern way has done away with "hit and miss" methods, and the demand of the times is for more in every calling, those training and experience which are to do only a few things, but to do those few things better and quicker than any one else.

Piles, Fistula and Varicose Veins Cured in One Treatment

I have yet to see the case I cannot cure in one treatment. It may seem strange to you that I am able to cure these cases in one treatment while so many other doctors treat them for days, weeks and months and even then without effecting a cure. Just think what it means to you. Think of the time and worry you save. Just one treatment and a permanent cure is effected. It's the greatest thing in the world. To the man who has been calling on his doctor for weeks and months and has not been cured I make a special appeal to lose no time in calling on me. To each caller I cheerfully explain my painless method of curing Piles, Fistula and Varicose Veins. It is so simple, so positive, so easily demonstrated that you will be fully convinced that I will permanently cure you.

The clogging up of the bowels is the beginning, then comes depression, and indigestion, then comes headache, backache and all other aches. ## MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

Mrs. A. E. Hensler,

Formerly Miss Ethel Roe, who has just returned from her wedding trip.

MR. AND MRS. A. E. HENSLEK, a recent bride couple, who have just returned from their honeymoon, were tendered a reception Saturday evening by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Roe, at their home, No. 2747 Harvard boulevard. One hundred guests were entertained.

The home was lavishly decorated with ferns, vines and blossoms, while the garden, where refreshments were served to the guests, was gay with Japanese lanterns. The lawn was brilliantly lighted with electric lights, as well as the veranda, where punch was served by Miss Ruth Ryan, Miss Eva Husted and Miss Mildred Madson.

Receiving with the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hensler, Miss Opal Davis of San Diego, Miss Irene Platt of Redlands and Miss Elvora Martin of Pasadena. Other unbranded young ladies were Miss Margaret Roe, Miss Violet Keeler, Miss Alina Pickering, Miss Amy Engle and Miss Florence Kiercher. A stringed orchestra was a feature of the evening's entertainment.

At Mayfield. Mr. and Mrs. William Warren Orin and family, No. 1528 West Fifth street, will leave today by automobile for a two-months' stay at their cottage at Mayfield in the San Jacinto Mountains.

Dinner Dance. Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Farnell of Union Avenue, who are occupying their summer home in Sierra Madre, entertained last evening with a brilliant dinner dance. Guests, who were all from Los Angeles, left in a private car over the Pacific Electric at 5 o'clock. The grounds, which comprise four acres at the foot of Mt. Wilson, are traversed by canyons. There were lighted by myriads of electric lights, and in one of them were placed the long tables, which were covered by a profusion of yellow blossoms.

A feature of the dinner was the cabaret entertainment given in a natural amphitheater, higher up on the mountain, in view of all the guests, covers being laid for over 100. A large pavilion had been erected in another canyon. Here an orchestra was stationed, which played delightful music for dancing.

To Travel in North. Among the many charming Angelenos who are planning a summer trip in the north is Mrs. Frank L. Neubauer, No. 1579 Rockwood street, who is now in San Francisco. Before returning she will visit her mother, Mrs. D. A. Ladderton, in Seattle.

Handsome Luncheon. The most elaborate affair of yesterday was the luncheon given by Mrs. Charles W. Hinchliffe at her home, No. 1257 Crenshaw boulevard, out of company with Mrs. John B. Wright of Tucson, Ariz., who, with her family, is passing the summer at Long Beach. Centering the large table was a low rustic basket filled with lilies of the valley, white sweet peas, and maidenhair ferns. There were smaller baskets of the lilies of the valley, and other marking covers were sketches of the flowers in water colors.

Following luncheon, tables were arranged for bridge, and those asked to meet the honorees were Mrs. William D. Stephens, Mrs. Roger Miller, Mrs. E. A. Featherstone, Mrs. Matthew S. Robertson, Mrs. M. C. Burnett, Mrs. Richard V. Day, Mrs. Anne Taylor, Mrs. Helen Henderson Steckel, Mrs. Warren Barnhart of Pasadena; Miss Thelma of Columbus, O., and Miss Katherine Kemper.

MADAME SHERRY FOR BURBANK.

Elaborate Musical Comedy Gives Paley Chance.

Hawthorne, U.S.A., Coming to the Morosco.

Vaudeville House to Present Summery Shows.

On next Sunday afternoon the Burbank Theater will cease its activities along serious dramatic lines for a month, at least, when Oliver Morosco will inaugurate a short summer season of big musical plays by presenting for the first time by a stock organization of at anything less than a $5 scale of prices, the world-famous French musical farce, "Madame Sherry."

The presentation of "Madame Sherry" should arouse much interest among local playgoers for it is a splendid form of warm weather entertainment, but the chief interest in the production lies in the fact that it will serve to bring out a young Los Angeles girl as a full blown prima donna and start her well on the road that leads to stardom, fame and fortune in the East the coming season.

This young girl is no other than Selma Paley, who in the short space of two years has developed into one of the cleverest young actresses the local stage has known and who only a short time ago was discovered to be the possessor of a beautiful voice of wonderful range and quality.

Attractive both in face and figure, young Paley is a fact, hardly out of her teens, the possessor of a brilliant voice and uncommon histrionic ability. Miss Paley has in abundance all of the qualities that should make her celebrated in musical comedy circles.

She is particularly well suited to sing and play the chief role of Yvonne Sherry in this musical farce and if the rehearsal, which have been in progress for the last three weeks may be taken as any criterion, Miss Paley in this role will score a personal triumph of no small proportions.

The production has been directed by the direction of James Darling, who directed the original New York production of the musical farce, and who has since directed the nine companies that have made "Every Little Movement" popular from one end of the globe to the other. Mr. Darling has not only directed the production, but will appear in the role of Theophilus Sherry, the millionaire connoisseur of Greek Art.

Percy Bronson, then whom no more popular light comedian ever appeared on the local stage, has been especially engaged for this production and will have the role of Edward Sherry; little Winnie Baldwin has been turned home by way of New York City.

Henley-Connelly Wedding. A quiet though very pretty wedding occurred yesterday at the cathedral, when Miss Mary V. Henley became the bride of Thomas Connelly, Rev. Nicholas Connelly, brother of the groom, was assisted by Rev. Michael Connelly, Scannell, Dillon, Heardon, Dineen and Conaty.

Miss Marian Connelly assisted as maid of honor, while Joseph Henley acted with the groom. After the ceremony an elaborate breakfast was served at the Anglious Hotel, covers being laid for the clergy and immediate relatives.

The bride was a popular city teacher, particularly among the children in the Latin district, where she has labored for their elevation. She is well loved at the Children's Hospital, and among the newboys of Los Angeles, and well fitted for settlement work, which she will again take up with the assistance of her husband, who is retired, after a honeymoon trip to British Columbia.

To Wed Detroit Girl. Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Gardner of Detroit, Mich., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Isabelle Gardner, to Joe R. Berkowitz of this city. The wedding date will be announced later.

Outing at Seven Oaks. Mrs. George E. Burrall of Wilshire boulevard, accompanied by her daughter and two sons, are spending the month at Seven Oaks.

Hay Ride Party. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Harris, No. 108 East Jefferson, entertained their friends with a hay ride in their new auto truck, the destination being Redondo Beach. After a delicious luncheon, the time was spent in bathing and enjoying the pleasures of the beach town. Guests included were Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Smith, Miss Florence Anderson, Miss Gladys Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Golt, Mrs. Katherine Rupert, Miss Vera Darney, Misses Anderson and Messrs. Raymond Sullivan, Harry Penn, and Walter M. Allee.

Gone to Former Home. Mrs. Mary Perkins, and daughter, Miss Clara Perkins, No. 115 South El Molino, Pasadena, are enjoying a visit to their former home, Polo, Ill.

MURDER IS CHARGED. Girl Dies in Hospital As Result of Operation and Doctor and Another Are Accused.

Jesse Bishop of Terminal Island was arrested last night in the County Jail, facing a charge of murder connected with the death at the County Hospital last night of Mary Benton Haley of Long Beach. A warrant on a companion charge has been issued for the arrest of Dr. Albert Wynn of San Pedro, who is now at liberty under $5000 bail, on the charge of performing a criminal operation on Miss Haley.

After terrible suffering, Miss Haley died last night. She had been taken to the hospital suffering the effects of an operation, alleged to have been performed by Dr. Wynn. Her father, E. H. Benton of Long Beach, was with her when she died and immediately made complaint charging the two men with murder. He swore to the warrants before a Long Beach justice of the peace.

Miss Haley was 18 years old. In an ante-mortem statement, she accused Bishop of inducing her to have the operation performed and said that Bishop made the illegal arrangements with Dr. Wynn.

A thorough search for Dr. Wynn was begun as soon as the warrant was issued.

REDUCED RATES EAST. Ask the agent, Denver and Rio Grande, "Scenic Line of the World," 532 South Spring street.—[Advertisement.]

Madame Sherry is scheduled for next week at the Burbank, and every morning and often late at night, after "The Escape," you will find James Darling, just as he appears here, wearing the big show into shape. The other picture shows that part of the rehearsal which new Broadway Bros. and Selma Paley. No, this is not a let-to-tell on the side. Note that hand on the extreme left? That's Darling telling them how to do this in 1918 fashion.

especially engaged for the part of Pepita, the Spanish girl; Lillian Tucker will be seen in her original role of Lulu; Grace Travers will play Catherine; Morgan Wallace will be seen as Philippe, her husband; Donald Bowles will have the part of Leonard Gomez, and William Covin will play Hector, the steward of the yacht Yvonne.

And then there will be a beautifully-gowned chorus of eight statuesque girls who will add grace, color and beauty to the many big musical numbers and dances, including "Every Little Movement." One of the biggest of the new songs in the piece will be Oliver Morosco's new song, "Oh, Take Me."

All of the costumes for "Madame Sherry" were made especially for the Burbank production and it is promised that in point of beautiful gowns, the piece will be a veritable fashion show. Manager Morosco having expended over $6000 on the costumes alone. Scenically the production will be an unusually elaborate one in every detail.

That "Madame Sherry" will prove the most attractive offering that has ever occupied the Burbank stage is already shown by the advance demand for seats, which, notwithstanding the adverse weather conditions, has been of uncommonly large proportions. Paul Armstrong's powerful play of the tempests, "The Escape," which is now attracting capacity audiences to the Burbank Theater, where Calhoun Calvert and A. Byron Bonaley are appearing in the roles which they will play in the New York production opening on Labor Day, will, despite the demand for seats, be given for this week only.

Notwithstanding the big business that has attended the production of "The Escape," the production of "Madame Sherry" will stand firm to his one week only policy at the new Broadway playhouse and on Saturday night the last performance of this thrilling Arm-tremendous hit in all of the biggest vaudeville theaters in America.

The second feature will be the Models de Luxe, an act which requires the services of several perfectly-formed young women who present a series of beautiful art studies. These young women were all selected for their faces and figures, and their reproductions of famous paintings from the time of Leonardo da Vinci, down to the present day are said to be uncommonly beautiful.

Third on the new bill will be Mae Dolly and Charles Mack in their brilliant, lively instrumental offering, while among the other newcomers are Gilmore and La Tour in "Sense and Nonsense," Elliott and West, the grotesque dancing boys; Wilton and Merrick, the comedy gymnasts, and the new comedy motion pictures.

Lycium. Daniel Frohman's motion-picture feature in four reels showing the distinguished romantic actor, James K. Hackett, in Anthony Hope's masterpiece of romance and adventure, "The Prisoner of Zenda," is continuing at the Lyceum Theater, where the film is being shown every afternoon and every night.

Pantages. One of the most popular acts that the West has supplied to the vaudeville stage returns next week after a long and successful eastern tour. The Cora Youngblood Corson Sextette were billed in the East as "The Girls from the Golden West" in acknowledgment of their Californian nativity. They will be the headline feature of next week's "Pantages" show. Adair, a baritone, will be heard in serious and Hickey, one of the recent eastern and light vocal numbers, both solo and together. The Five Musical Gormans, a family of father, son and three pretty daughters, will be heard in a varied instrumental program, with their individual versatility shown by the variety of instruments they play. Miss Katherine, the way is a noted comic violinist, and the boy is almost as well famed as a drummer.

Zelda Sears and her company in "The Wardrobe Woman" will remain as will Joe Jackson, the tramp who cycles—almost; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilde with their shadowgraphs; the Four Brothers, and G. S. Melvin. The usual fine concert and the world's news in motion views will make up the rest of the bill.

Mason. This week will be the only one at the Mason for Blanche Bates, who, with her English company, has been a real sensation in her strong play, "The Witness for the Defense." Miss Bates is seen at her very best in this play, and her company amply fulfills all requirements. After this week, the Mason will close for the summer vacation, being dark about a month.

Empress. The headline feature of the uncommonly fine bill coming to the Empress Theater next Monday afternoon will be the distinguished character star, Walter Herbert, supported by Margaret Williams and Thomas Francis, in Aaron Hoffman's famous one-act play, "A Son of Solomon." This is a character sketch of the ghetto and a play in which Mr. Herbert has scored a tremendous hit in all of the biggest vaudeville theaters in America.

Gilbert Lozes, the triple-voiced wonder, is promised as an added attraction.

Ed Vinton and his dog, Buster, "Those Four Kids" and Harry Fisher, Cycling Comedians complete the list.

Century. "Edna's Home Sweet Home" is the title for next week's musical melange of nonsense, and the title alone should be enough to pack the house.

It will depict the stormy path that Julius Mendel as Fiddle Helms has to follow when he becomes a married man. Al Franke will play Michael Brady and his disappointment at Helms betting him out of his best girl and his efforts to win her away from him will be watched with interest. Walter Spencer will, of course, play the leading part and sing another of his songs hits. Earl Hall will be to the front in a good part and will have a song on the style of "Knock 'Em off Their Feet."

Gale Henry will play the part of Mrs. Helms and Clara Howard will have another daisy sobriety part especially suited to her. Miss Esther King will play the prima donna part and will sing another beautiful selection. Mendel's Merry Maidens will bring up the rear guard very effectively, dressed in new and gorgeous wardrobe and dancing intricate steps of new creation. As usual at the Wednesday and Saturday matinees all ladies holding reserved seat coupons will be presented with a handsome souvenir pennant and all children accompanied by their parents will be admitted free to these matinees.

LIFE BLASTED, SAYS ENGSTRUM.

Gets His Divorce in but Few Minutes; Grieves.

Sends Ex-Wife Telegram of Sorrow from Court.

"Happiness Gone and I Will Never Marry Again."

Paul Engstrum was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce yesterday, but the decree apparently brought more of sorrow than of joy to him. He sent the following telegram to Mrs. Engstrum immediately after the short trial:

"The law has parted us today forever as man and wife, and for your sake, little girl, I am sorry. What might have been, you and I will never know. Our paths have separated for all time. For two months you and I were an oasis in the desert of life. Try and do right and make something of yourself, not for my sake, but for your own happiness. With good luck, and the possibilities of happiness to you, God bless you. Don't destroy this, as some day you may want to read it again."

Engstrum stated that his discoveries have almost killed him. He loved her madly, and had hoped for a life of happiness, he said. He was outspoken against William La. Case and a detective named Russell.

"I will never marry again," he declared. "All the happiness has gone out of my life. I am sorry this thing has come to separate us. I am now going to buckle down to business and try to forget it."

The specific allegation which won Engstrum the divorce was the trapping of La. Case, an automobile agent, with Mrs. Engstrum, in the former's apartments on Hill street at 1:30 o'clock on the morning of April 13, last. Engstrum went there accompanied by a detective and broke down the door.

"La. Case had a 45-caliber revolver in his hand," testified Engstrum, "and he said he was going to shoot. Mrs. Engstrum ran into another room. La. Case declared he would get me yet. Then the officers came."

Later La. Case was arrested charged with contributing to the dependency of Evelyn Quick. Engstrum said he had not seen his wife since that time. Russell, Engstrum stated, had taken Mrs. Engstrum to the Vernon Country Club on numerous occasions.

"I saw her there night after night with him," Engstrum stated. "I kept a memorandum of the time she reached home in the mornings."

One memorandum read that Mrs. Engstrum "sneaked in the back door of the Rex Arms at 5 a. m." on a date in November, last. Others read:

"November 7, sneaked in 1:30 a. m."
"November 11, sneaked in back door, 4 a. m."

"November 14, with Russell at Baron Long's Vernon Country Club."

"November 19, came in at 2 a. m." Patrolman McMahon was one of the men detailed to take La. Case and he corroborated Engstrum's testimony.

"It is usual to ask that the wife be brought into court for the purpose of ascertaining if she has any defense," stated Judge Monroe. "But because of the notoriety this case has been given everybody knows she knows all about it. It is not necessary for her to be brought in. Take your decree."

Engstrum left the stand without a sign of pleasure. He spoke to his counsel, E. A. Meserve, and hurriedly left the courtroom with friends. Engstrum was married to Helen Lillian Davey, March 25, 1912. She was his second wife. His first wife obtained a divorce. In answer to the court's questions he said there were no children, no community property and no property settlement with his wife. The entire trial consumed fifteen minutes.

Tamapais Blaze Rouses Counties to Action.

Conflict Causes Talk in Frisco.

FRANCISCO BUREAU OF TIMES, July 16.—[Exclusive.] John J. Maza, president of the Marin Fire League, applied to the State Board of Forestry for the formation of a county fire district, under the law of 1905. This is the first application that has been received by the board of the recent fire on Tamapais.

The provision of the law, fire districts may be made to include four or less and the expense of fighting is borne by the counties.

There has been an undecurrent of "who is who and why" about the fire on the mountain. The fire was started by a lightning bolt and the forest service is now going over and taking charge of the burning.

It is reported to be the most effective work and that the forest service is now going to have a job to do. The fire is now burning and the forest service is now going to have a job to do.

In the Canyons Back of Beverly Hills

AMONG the many attractions of Beverly Hills, "the beautiful homesite between the City and the Sea," are the walks and rides in the canyons that lie back of this suburban villa subdivision.

Within a few minutes "the man who would a-riding go" can be deep within as wild a country as he ever rode over, and yet the trails are good and all safe—for riding or tramping afoot.

These are attractions that but few localities can boast of and offer a health-giving recreation to the Beverly Hills dweller that will keep him in fine fettle—and make him sleep well o' nights and be fresh and full of vim and vigor for the day's work.

A home at

Beverly Hills offers a man beauty of situation, scenic loveliness, accessibility to city and ocean beaches, and all for less money than he will be asked to pay in other less favored localities for a naked lot and naked piece of land, where all he can see are other houses—A FOREST OF ROOFS.

The way out to Beverly Hills is along a chain of boulevards. Starting at Seventh and Broadway—the heart of the city—the drive is out Seventh and into beautiful Wilshire boulevard, which is lined on either side by mansions—one of the most picturesque drives in the entire boulevard system.

Lots at Beverly Hills are generous in size, 80 to 100 feet front, the price ranging from $1700 up—with restrictions that absolutely protect the buyer from undesirable buildings, such as apartment houses, hotels, etc.

Our Mr. Rowe is at our Beverly Hills office every day to show our property.

TO RE-NAME MT. MCKINLEY.

Archdeacon Stuck, Who Has Scaled the Peak, Wants It Christened "Denali," "The Great One."

SEATTLE, July 16.—Mt. McKinley, the highest peak in North America, will be given the name of "Denali," an Indian word meaning "the great one," if Archdeacon Hudson Stuck, the Episcopal missionary whose party was the first to reach the summit of the great peak, is able to prevail upon the National Board of Geographic Names to make the change. George F. Kilroy, an Alaska newspaper man, who met the party at Tanana on its return from the mountain, arrived in Seattle yesterday. He said Archdeacon Stuck, who will go to New York in October to attend the general convention of the Episcopal church, would urge the change in name upon the National Geographic Society, of which he is a member.

According to Kilroy, Archdeacon Stuck collapsed just before the summit was reached, and was dragged to the crest by companions, all of whom were held together by a rope. "Archdeacon Stuck was the fourth man on the rope," said Mr. Kilroy. "He was literally dragged to the top, where he revived after a few minutes. There was not a flag in the party and R. G. Tatum, a mission worker of Knoxville, Tenn., took his white silk handkerchief and with a red cord from a provision box and an American flag, which was planted on the highest point. A cross made of a dog sled runner was carefully whitened out by Archdeacon Stuck after the summit was reached."

STOCKTON "FIREBUG" BURN.

Seventh Blaze in Four Days Causes Loss of Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars.

STOCKTON, July 16.—The seventh fire in four days occurred last night destroying more property of the Totten & Brandt Planing Mill Company and over a mile from the scene of the fire Sunday night, which caused a property loss of $150,000. Mayor Reibenstein, this afternoon increased the reward for the capture of the incendiaries from $100 to $250, which with that offered by merchants and lumber men will bring the total close to $300. The last fire did $15,000 worth of damage.

PERRIS IRRIGATED FARMS LIKE SUBURBAN HOMES

James J. Hill must have taken into consideration the great farming possibilities of Southern California when he made the statement that it "will be the wealthiest, the most highly developed and the most densely populated section of the known world." Nowhere else in Southern California do natural and man-made conditions combine more perfectly for ideal farm home life and the growing of alfalfa and general farm and orchard crops.

Good Soil, Abundant Water—Big Crops, Big Profits

These farms are supreme for alfalfa, cutting 7 crops a year. Stock and hogs thrive and are practically free from the common diseases. Fruits and berries, nuts and vegetables all succeed there.

No man alive to the fast disappearing opportunities of today can afford to buy land anywhere for any purpose without investigating Perris Irrigated Farms at this price.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Commissioner Gordon stated yesterday that after investigation he finds a condition wherein it seems the only practicable thing to do to prepare his harbor for immigration is for the city to build a station and allow the government to use it without charge.

The City Council yesterday asked the Board of Public Works to grant no more extensions of time to street contractors unless property owners' interests would suffer were extensions not granted. This was a slap at the Fairchild-Gillmore-Wilton Company, which concern asked for pay for delaying paving work on East Eighth street until a conduit is laid.

Mayor Rose appointed F. C. Finkle and Vincent Morgan members of the Police Commission yesterday. The appointments do not please some of the councilmen and a fight may develop.

The Mayor will name A. F. Frankenstein as a member of the Fire Commission today, vice George W. Stockwell, resigned. He has under consideration the appointment of R. H. Raphael as a member of the Civil Service Commission, vice Albert Lee Stephens, resigned to take the office of City Attorney.

Although the chief counsel for the defense will be unable to appear in the case of a Long Beach millionaire charged with having contributed to the dependency of two girls, the trial will be held as scheduled, despite an effort to get a continuance.

More than 600 Russian couples are living here in illegal marriage state, according to the report of an attorney to the court yesterday in presenting the defense of a foreigner charged with having bought a girl wife.

At the City Hall.
CITY MAY BUILD FOR IMMIGRANTS.
ALLOWING GOVERNMENT USE OF SUCH STRUCTURE.

Commissioner Gordon declares this is only practicable method of putting Los Angeles Harbor in State of Preparation for Handling Passenger Traffic from Old World.

The government is not willing to invest any money in the erection of an immigration station at the Los Angeles Harbor until it is demonstrated that ships passing through the Panama Canal are bringing immigrants to this port. The steamship companies declare that they will not undertake to land immigrants here unless there is a regular immigration station, as they will not be subject to the delays of holding passengers aboard ship, as would be required during the quarantine period were there no station.

Harbor Commissioner Gordon was given this subject recently to investigate, and he has taken up with the State Immigration Commission the subject of the city itself erecting a station of temporary use, until such time as the government is convinced of the necessity of erecting its own building.

Gordon finds that while the Harbor Commission could erect a station on municipal property, it is not at all likely that the government, charter provisions prohibiting such action. It appears, he says, that the only solution of the problem is for the city to erect the sheds and allow the government free use, so that difficulties may be removed and immigration may flow into this port when the canal traffic begins.

Dr. Dana Bartlett is now in Europe, making a special study of immigration problems and gathering data that he expects to be of special value to this port. He will return in about two months, and the immigration commission will await his report before taking definite action on the proposed immigration station.

COUNCIL COMES BACK.

RETALIATES ON CONTRACTORS.
As a direct protest against the action of the Fairchild-Gillmore-Wilton Company in refusing to hold up the paving of Eighth street, from Main to Central avenue, until such time as the conduits could be laid in the street, unless the city reimburse the company for additional expenses, the City Council yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution requesting the Board of Public Works to grant no more extensions of time to street contractors unless the interests of the property owners would suffer by failure to do so.

The Council has been anxious to get the conduit in Eighth street so that the new paving would not have to be cut soon after it is completed. When the paving concern made its demand for payment for the conduits, the ire of several of the Councilmen was aroused and a lively expression of opinion followed. Betkouski declared that this particular concern had been before the Council often for favors, but that he would make it his business to see that hereafter no favors be granted. He charged that the paving company and the public utilities concerns were working together to prevent the placing of the conduits.

The plan of making a direct charge to any contractor given an extension of time was proposed, but the request to the Public Works Board was finally introduced by McKenzie and unanimously carried.

FINKLE AND MORGAN.

FOR POLICE COMMISSION.
Mayor Rose sent to the City Council yesterday his appointments for the Police Commission—F. C. Finkle, a civil engineer, and Vincent Morgan, an attorney. Under the Council rules, action on confirmation was postponed for one week.

When the appointments were announced by the Council clerk, the usual reference was made without comment, but during the day indications pointed to the fact that the appointments are not altogether pleasing to some of the Council members. Councilman Whiffen was particularly struck by the announcement, he giving an involuntary shrug and gasp of surprise when the names were read. He refused, however, later in the day to state on what grounds he would oppose the appointments, although declaring that he would not vote for their confirmation.

The Police Commission will hold its next meeting Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, the day after the appointments will be before the Council for confirmation. The Mayor yesterday officially announced his acceptance of the resignations of Commissioner Akey and McMill, after they had completed yesterday's session.

pleaded for a more liberal policy in regard to signs.

Councilmen Whiffen and Snowden expressed themselves as being decidedly opposed to granting the request, each declaring that it would be an entering wedge that would result in the entire street being defaced with glaring signs. Councilman Bryant expressed more time to consider the subject, and it was carried over for one week.

WOULD STOP SPEEDING.

The Police Commission yesterday considered conditions in the Third-street tunnel, of which there is constant complaint, and received a report from Chief of Police Sebastian to the effect that Lieut. Butler, of the traffic squad, has detailed two motorcycle officers to the tunnel to arrest speeders.

The City Electrician is to be requested to undertake to devise means for better lighting of the tunnel.

Will Appoint Frankenstein.

Mayor Rose will send to the City Council today his appointment of A. F. Frankenstein, orchestra leader and music-writer, as a member of the Fire Commission, vice George W. Stockwell, resigned. Frankenstein has made a special study of fire protection and the Mayor expressed himself yesterday being pleased to accept Frankenstein's consent to accept the appointment.

Raphael On the List.

The vacancy on the Civil Service Commission caused by the resignation of Albert Lee Stephens to accept the duties of the City Attorney's office, may be filled by the appointment of R. H. Raphael, president of the Southern California Real Estate and Manufacturing Company, whose residence is No. 1353 Alvarado Terrace. Raphael is a Democrat, and the charter provision requires that the vacancy be filled by one of this political faith.

Road for Island.

The Harbor Commission yesterday gave its approval to the plans for the establishment of a public road on Terminal Island, to connect two ferry landings. It is proposed to construct a twenty-four-foot-wide oiled macadam road, starting from the south end of the Salt Lake wharf and extending northeast to the Fourth-street wharf. The City Council will be asked to institute proceedings for this improvement under the Vrooman act.

Half Rate for Pilots.

When vessels enter the Los Angeles harbor hereafter simply for the purpose of taking on fuel oil, they will be charged only half the regular pilotage fee. This was decided by the Harbor Commission at its meeting yesterday.

Offers City Hog Farm.

The idea of establishing a municipal hog farm, for utilization of the garbage, has become more than a joke at the City Hall. It is really being given serious consideration. The Board of Public Works yesterday received from Dr. C. W. Stevens an offer for the use of a tract of 187 acres of land in the Castaic Canyon, forty-nine miles from Los Angeles. The bids under the new specifications will be opened next Monday.

Must Distribute Samples.

City Prosecutor Nimmo called attention of the Police Commission yesterday to reports he has been receiving that druggists for wholesale liquor houses are distributing samples of their wares, which is against the provisions of the ordinance. The Chief of Police was authorized to send private notification to all wholesale liquor dealers that such practice will not be tolerated and that it will be considered grounds for a revocation of the liquor permit.

Protest Is Denied.

The City Council voted unanimously yesterday to deny the protest on the proposed improvement of Glendale avenue, between Elsie street and Sunset boulevard. The protesters, while within the assessment district, were not owners of property on the street itself. Much effort has been made to secure the improvement of this street. It is the most thoroughfare for school children of the district, and they use the railway tracks for a walk in either wet or dusty weather. One of the features of the case was a petition from the pupils of the school of that vicinity asking that the street be improved.

Must Be Decorous.

President Whiffen laid down the law to the City Council yesterday and declared that hereafter he proposes to maintain such order in the Council chamber that this body shall be notable for its decorum. Whiffen was evidently annoyed by the conversations carried on between Councilmen, and this became so marked that finally Councilman Snowden asked that his brother members be required to give their personal attention to the business in hand. "I shall insist that more rigid attention to the rules of this Council be maintained," announced the president.

Oppose Extending Signs.

The Public Safety Committee of the Council gave a hearing yesterday to the representatives of the thirty-three theaters that have petitioned for an ordinance permitting the placing of electric signs over the sidewalks to a distance of two-thirds the width of the sidewalk and four feet in height. S. I. DeKrafft represented the theatrical men and Paul D. House, head of an electric-sign manufacturing concern.

Contract for Hydrants.

The City Council yesterday instructed the City Attorney to prepare the renewal of a contract between the city and the Los Angeles county water works for the installation of fire hydrants in the Gardena district for the ensuing year.

TO DEPORT "WHITE SLAVE."

Leontine Chambers, a girl coming under the "white-slave" classification, will be deported by the local immigration officials despite the frantic efforts of the girl and her friends to keep her in California. Unfortunately her lawyers need for writ habeas corpus in the District Court of Appeal, which has no jurisdiction over undesirable alien cases. The inspectors report that the many women merely living in the restricted district of Mexicali are coming to various parts of this State from Mexicali.

WITNESS IN OWN COURT.

Justice Summerfield was subpoenaed yesterday as a witness in the case of the People against J. M. Taylor, accused of bigamy. The preliminary is set for the 25th inst. in Justice Summerfield's court. He probably will get Justice Cassidy to sit for him on that day, as he cannot be both judge and witness.

At the Courthouse.

NO CONTINUANCE OF BIXBY TRIAL.

CHIEF COUNSEL FOR DEFENSE UNABLE TO APPEAR.

Court Ascertains Name of Associate Attorney, Brooks No Delay in Having Millionaire, Accused of Having Contributed to Girl's Dependency, Brought Before Bar.

The trial of George H. Bixby, the Long Beach millionaire, charged with having contributed to the dependency of Marie Brown Levy and Cleo Helen Barker, set for the 24th inst. will start on that date, although Oscar Lawler, Bixby's counsel, stated to the court yesterday he could not be present.

Lawler is engaged as counsel in the trial of the suit before the Department of the Interior involving the government and the Iron Mining Company, covering property rights of more than $1,000,000. The trial has continued for five weeks, and Lawler told the court it is only half completed.

Judge Oster denied Lawler's motion for continuance after ascertaining that Samuel Haskins is associate counsel.

COMES ARMED.

BRASS KNUCKLES IN COURT.

Henry C. Allen was searched in the corridor of the Hall of Records yesterday by Bailiff Bryant and relieved of a knife and brass knuckles. Allen was plaintiff in a suit against John E. Youkum and his wife, Anna R. Youkum, commenced by the latter to recover on a $1000 promissory note and for the costs of certain improvements to property he rented from Youkum for a hog ranch at Verano, and which was later sold by Youkum. Judge Cole gave judgment for $1000. While the trial was proceeding Mrs. Youkum communicated to Clerk Monroe the fear that while her husband was testifying something might happen. Pressed for an explanation, she said Allen and her husband had had a dispute over the property and that Allen had displayed a pistol. Monroe pointed out the situation to Bailiff Bryant, who asked Allen to step into the corridor. The brass knuckles were confiscated, but the knife was returned to the owner later.

MOTHER WINS.

ON CRUELTY GROUNDS.

One angle of the domestic troubles of A. R. Campbell and his wife was disposed of yesterday by Judge Monroe, who granted the woman a decree of divorce. Campbell had brought suit alleging unfaithfulness. His wife filed a cross-complaint alleging cruelty. The evidence showed that Campbell had been keeping his wife's daughter, Ida, 5 years old, and had been put in jail until he produced the little girl.

MAKES CHOICE.

WIFE OR MOTHER AND SISTERS.
When the mother and sisters of Edward C. Beeson came to live with him, his wife told him that as he was not supporting her she did not see how he was going to provide for them. She testified in her divorce suit yesterday that one of the sisters paid her to take care of her mother and her wife. Beeson went away with them.

GETS HUSBAND'S RELEASE.

Judge Monroe believed he had done the best thing possible for Mrs. J. L. Powers when he sent her husband to the county jail for $1.00 a day. Powers earned could go to her support. As time passed, the wife worried over her husband's crushing debt as a prisoner, and she finally managed to interest a society in her behalf with the result that a job was promised.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

INJUNCTION SUIT. Suit was filed yesterday by the Miradas Water Company and the Title Guarantee and Trust Company for an order to restrain the Trustees of Glendale from enforcing the new ordinance. The trust company also brought suit against the Tropic Trust company on the same ground. It is alleged that the latter company charged against the Glendale plant, together with the interest on the investment, is $23,000; the income is $23,134. The income of the Tropic plant is given as $19,999; the expenses, $20,138.

NO SLANDER.

John E. Youts, who alleged that while he was secretary of the Merchants' Insurers and Reporting Company he was slandered by John P. McCabe, and who yesterday brought suit for $50,000 damages, lost his case before Judge Wilbur yesterday. The court found that at the time of the alleged slander the men were engaged in a business controversy and that a portion of McCabe's remarks were directed toward the company. The preponderance of evidence showed that at the time stated McCabe did not charge that Youts had been driven out of Ohio.

JIMMIE'S HARD LUCK.

Little Jimmie Fountain is worse than an orphan. When R. Pouchard came into his mother's life it brought blows for the lad. Judge Wilbur sentenced Pouchard to the County Jail for six months yesterday. Mrs. Kate Fountain, the mother, will be disposed of today. They were charged with having contributed to Jimmie's dependency.

CASE DISMISSED.

Mrs. Estelle Moore was cleared of the charge of murder yesterday when, on the motion of the District Attorney, the case against her was dismissed. J. L. Murphy, her uncle, convicted of murder in the second degree, will have his motion for a new trial argued before Judge Cabanis Saturday. The victim of Murphy's alleged jealousy was Mrs. Irene Smith, who was shot and killed.

COURT VISITORS. Judge George C. Adams of the Juvenile Court of Cleveland, O., occupied the bench with Judge Wilbur yesterday and stated that the system in vogue here is as good as any practiced in eastern courts. He was impressed with the volume of business transacted. Another visitor was William F. Zuercher, chief probation officer for the Juvenile Court at Milwaukee. He was the guest of Chief Probation Officer Gilbert Judge Adams left for San Francisco last night to study conditions in Judge Muraski's court.

AUGUST TRIALS. William Aldridge, the Venice prize-fight promoter, will be tried August 8 on the charge of having contributed to the dependency of Christine Neal. The trial of J. P. Hartigan, who is alleged to have contributed to the dependency of Christine Neal, was set for August 14. Both men have entered pleas of not guilty. The trials will be heard by Jurists in the Juvenile Court.

HER INTENTIONS. Although she made no defense, Mrs. Ruth M. Baer told Judge Monroe yesterday that she did not intend to live with her husband, Theodore M. Baer, who was deserted three months ago and who she said that the day after they were married she caught her husband flirting in a San Francisco restaurant and deserted her. The decree was granted Baer.
